

Coach Paul Sands Kicks for Cancer 2017

At the 2017 KICKS game the entire Woburn team chose to have "Coach" on their backs in honor of their beloved Coach Paul Sands, who was being treated for esophageal cancer. This was a complete surprise to Coach Sands! His wife Rosey had carefully arranged all the details. Coach Sands was able to attend the game with the loving aide of Rosey and many family members. He retired from coaching after that 2017 season, having given 33 years to the Woburn men's team as their varsity head coach. He is doing well, enjoying retirement and watching as many Woburn games as possible. His wife Rosey continues to be a bright light of kindness everywhere she goes in the world.
